New Castle Official Addresses Crowd; Flag's Presented

The dedication of Hookstown's new Post Office, which opened for business June 19, was held Saturday afternoon with about 200 attending.

Highlights included a speech by Harold W. Miller of New Castle, field services officer for the Post Office Department, and the presentation and raising of the flag.

Miss Olive K. Floyd, postmaster, was presented a new American flag for the building by Mrs. Frank M. Clark of Bessemer, wife of the 25th Congressional District representative, who is in Cambodia.

Mrs. Clark spoke briefly and Miss Floyd presented the flag to the color guard of South Side American Legion Post 952 which conducted the flag raising. Miss Lucille Halstead read "Ode to the Flag."

Miller told the audience: "This new Post Office is a part of the most unique postal construction program in history — with post offices built specifically for efficiency in handling your mails and using private funds for construction rather than money out of the public purse, while, at the same time, paying taxes in your community."

"It is also a modern day record so far as rapid construction of postal buildings is concerned," he said.

"President Kennedy has announced that to stimulate the economy, while implementing better postal service programs, the construction which would normally require 18 months to get underway will be now telescoped into a period of a little more than 10 months, starting last Feb. 15, 1961 and carrying through Dec. 31 of 1961," he said.

"During this period, an amaz-

Skepticism And Hope Europe Ponders Reds' 'New Look'

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Communist party's promise of a golden age ahead for the people of the Soviet Union evoked mixed feelings of skepticism and hope in Western Europe today.

Skepticism at the grandiose ideals outlined in the Communist blueprint for a coming Utopia for the Soviet's millions; hope aroused by the rejection of war and the declaration that to realize this easy life there must be peace on earth.

Belief was expressed in Britain that Premier Khrushchev would not be prepared to gamble away his goals of a Communist paradise by risking war with the West.

Belgian Socialists saw the program as partly a political maneuver. A Swedish conservative newspaper, Svenska Dagbladet, said the promised achievements are "so long-dated that it must be safe for Khrushchev to feel that it can hardly be he who will have to answer if they are not redeemed."

The 20-year plan made public over the weekend declared that by 1970 the Soviet Union would outdistance the United States in per capita production and by 1980 would give the Soviet people the highest standard of living in the world — "everyone will live in easy circumstances."

The Soviet people were promised free housing and public transportation in the 1970s, a gradual shortening of the workweek to six hours a day, and before completion of the program free education, free medical care, free gas and heating and free water.

The 45,000-word manifesto—the first grand Soviet plan since Lenin's in 1919—pledged a policy of coexistence with the West in an apparent slap at the Chinese Communists.

Conspicuously missing from the document was any mention of Stalin, who never issued such a wide-ranging proclamation during his long reign.

Bearing the imprint of Khrushchev himself, the draft plan will be presented to the 22nd party congress in October. Its ratification is a certainty.

London's conservative Daily Telegraph, called the program "pie in the sky" and said: "It is difficult to believe that, having staked his reputation on a long-term program of social and economic reform, Mr. Khrushchev would want to throw everything to the winds in a gamble over Berlin."

The laborite Daily Herald called the program "a system of paying wages partly in kind." The Herald added: "The more prosperous peoples there are in the world the better. And if Mr. K feels strong enough to promise Utopia he cannot really believe that world war is just around the corner, too."

The conservative Daily Sketch said: "Mr. Khrushchev's 'jam tomorrow' program sounds wonderful (but) in fact, Russia is as far from catching up with the productive capacity of the West as she ever was."

Robber Held For Slaying In Wheeling

Ex-Guard Captured In Holdup, Killing At Elm Grove Store

WHEELING (AP) — Robert Clinton Satterfield of nearby Benwood remained in Ohio County jail here today awaiting further action on charges of armed robbery and murder.

Satterfield, 25, and the father of four children, was captured without a fight by police officers who closed in on him near his home early Sunday. Police searched W. Va. 88 for Satterfield after Roy Porter reported he had picked up and discharged a suspicious hitchhiker.

Porter, by coincidence, was identified as an uncle of Robert Nelson, the shooting victim of Saturday's holdup at an A & P supermarket. Nelson, 30-year-old car manager, was gunned down as he and some other men took out after an armed bandit who earlier stole $2,500 from the market.

The money was recovered, and authorities said Satterfield admitted the holdup and firing at his pursuers.

Satterfield reportedly once served as a penitentiary guard, but that could not be confirmed because the records office there was closed yesterday.

Britain Plans Market Link With Europe

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan announced today Britain will apply for membership in the European Common Market.

He told the House of Commons that Britain's actual entry into the six-nation economic group will depend, however, on what arrangements can be made to protect the interests of its partners in the British Commonwealth.

Mercury May Hit 88; Rain Waited Tuesday

Senate Set For Debate On Aid Plan

House Expects Fast Approval Of Boosts In Defense System

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress comes to grips this week with some of the major issues of President Kennedy's legislative program.

In an air of uncertainty about the results, the Senate will begin debating the President's foreign aid program which carries the five-year authority Kennedy asked for an $8.8-billion program of economic development loans.

The House takes up, with speedy approval expected, a Senate-passed measure authorizing the President to hold fighting men and units on duty an extra year and to call up to 250,000 reserves to active duty to counter the Soviet threat to squeeze the West out of Berlin.

The House expects to get around by midweek to passing another Senate bill authorizing a new $958,570,000-million outlay for speeding the delivery of new missiles, ships and planes. It will sandwich in, probably Tuesday, approval of a bill to continue federal airport aid.

Before the Senate can launch its foreign aid debate, it will have to dispose of two major money bills. It has agreed to begin voting this afternoon on the first of a series of amendments to a $9,098,614,000 bill to finance operations of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Veterans Administration and other bureaus.

When work on this measure is concluded it will take up a $5,161,380,000 appropriations bill for the Welfare and Labor departments.

With the prospect of a week of debate ahead on the foreign aid program, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said the Senate may take

Firemen End Chester Fair After Parade

6,000 Jam Streets To Watch 65 Units In Big Procession

An estimated 6,000 watched the Chester volunteer firemen's parade Saturday night and 10,000 attended the last night of the week-long carnival at Rock Springs Park.

According to the crowd's applause, popular Tri-state units in the 65 unit parade included the Weirton High School Band, the drill team of Wellsville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9285 and the comedy team of the Munhall volunteer fire department.

Parade winners will get $300 in prizes. Judges included John Bright of Weirton and Floyd Wilson of Newell, equipment, and John Clovis of Chester, who judged musical entries.

Band winners were Weirton High School, first, Newell High School, second, Imperial firemen, third, and Renton firemen, fourth, and Baton twirlers, Janettes of East Palestine, first, and Cassidy Dance Students of East Liverpool, second.

Others were the Oakdale (Pa.) Boys Home, best drum and bugle corps; Ted Martin of Chester, oldest car; Midland, best aerial ladder; Negley, best pumper; Steve Murray of Chester, best decorated bicycle; Calcutta, oldest truck; Weirton, best emergency truck.

U.N. Divided On Proposal To Air Tunis

Decision Expected On Call By Liberia For August Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The 46 Asian-African members of the United Nations appeared divided today over whether to press for a special session of the U.N. General Assembly to take up the French-Tunisian impasse over the Bizerte naval base.

A number of countries from Asia and Africa were reported reluctant to support Liberia's call for a special August session. The group called a closed-door meeting this afternoon.

There was considerable doubt the 10 new African nations who belong to the French Community would go along with the proposal. The goal of those seeking a special assembly is to brand France an aggressor against Tunisia and to force the French out of their Mediterranean naval and air base at Bizerte.

Turkey, Japan, the Philippines and several other Asian members of the bloc were reported dubious

Motorist Hurt In Car Crash; 3 More Cited

Glenmoor Man, 63, Swerves To Miss Oncoming Truck

A Glenmoor area man was injured Saturday afternoon when his auto crashed into guardrails on a curve in the 1300 block of Dresden Ave. as he swerved to avoid a head-on collision with an oncoming truck, police reported.

Ayward Rhodes, 63, of the Y. & O. Rd. was treated at City Hospital for lacerations of the right thumb and chin after the mishap at 3:25 p. m., police said. The front of his 1954 sedan was damaged, officers said.

Rhodes told police he was traveling north on Dresden and met a large truck as he neared the curve. As the truck was over the center line, he pulled to the right to avoid a head-on crash, but his car's wheels struck some loose gravel and the auto went out of control, tearing out several guardrails, he told police.

Three other drivers were cited as an aftermath of four collisions Saturday night and early today.

Leads Sought At Pittsburgh In Art Theft

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Police and the FBI today were tracking down leads in the theft of 10 paintings unofficially valued at a half million dollars.

The paintings were lifted from the suburban Whitehall home of G. David Thompson, wealthy industrialist and art collector.

Stolen were six Picassos, a Miro, a Matisse and two Legers. Three other paintings, including another Picasso, were mutilated.

Thompson discovered the theft early Saturday morning when he and his wife returned home from a dinner party.

Thompson offered $100,000 for return of the works. He said, "No questions would be asked."

The FBI joined the investigation mainly to aid police from the City of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County and Whitehall.

However, an FBI spokesman said the bureau is also interested in the case because of the high value of the paintings.

No arrests have been made. One man was picked up by Whitehall police for questioning, but he was released.

The stolen Picassos are "The Bathers," "Tete," "Femme Assise, Robe Bleu," "Still Life with Guitar," "La Dame a la Fleur" and "Still Life with Cherries."

The mutilated Picasso is "Portrait of Lady with Hat." It was slashed across the face with a sharp instrument.

Officers Arrest Midland Man As Fight Aftermath

A 35-year-old Midland man was taken into custody early Sunday after a series of experiences in East Liverpool that included a fight, a trip to City Hospital for treatment of injuries, an argument with his estranged wife and an arrest while hitch-hiking.

The defendant is John Parsons, 432 Midland Ave., accused of violating an ordinance against "frightening or disturbing the occupants of a dwelling" after allegedly chasing his estranged wife out of her home.

Police said Parsons first was involved in a fight, but by the time officers arrived the battle was over. He was told to file charges this morning against the other man, who was unnamed, police said. Then police took Parsons to the hospital for treatment of a knee injury. After arguing with the nurse who treated him, Parsons was told to go to his home in Midland, police said.

But Parsons went to his estranged wife's home and chased her and the children outside, officers said. Patrolmen Samuel E. Hayes and Jerry Adkins took Parsons into custody at 3:52 a. m. Sunday when they found him hitch-hiking at Harvey and Myrtle Aves.

Parsons also had his front teeth knocked out in the fight on Pennsylvania Ave. He appeared in Municipal Court this morning but his hearing was continued until Wednesday morning at 9.

Austerity Of Another Color

It's a good bet the British eventually will pull through their prime minister's new austerity program and a fair bet the prime minister will pull through himself. But for the present the British are not being good sports about it.

Their angry reaction to Harold Macmillan's belt-tightening shows what could have been expected in the United States if President Kennedy had proposed actual sacrifices for defense instead of talking about the possibility of sacrifices.

Perhaps if the British had been told that austerity was required for national defense, it would have gone down easier. But they were told it was required for national survival, which is something more serious, though not so exciting. They reacted better.

This may shed a ray of political light on the prospect for American-style austerity. President Kennedy has hinted at increased taxation later on, and in the natural order of things he might get around to grimmer topics, such as wage controls. But for the moment he is underwriting the happy illusion that the United States can inflate its military spending without offsetting the inflationary effect with belt-tightening.

In Britain, austerity is nothing more mysterious than the obvious cure for something that was of deep concern in the United States as recently as a year ago. The American people were spending so much money abroad, they couldn't balance their payments. The British have been living better than they could afford to live.

In this country, the problem dissolved of its own accord. No austerity was called for. President Eisenhower proposed cutbacks in allowances for families of overseas troops, but even those were rescinded. Austerity isn't a popular idea in the United States, not even in its softer shades.

A New Low

Cruelty to animals has reached a new low here with the report that hunting bows have been used to wound dogs in the North Side area.

"Man's best friend" must be wondering what it's all about as new methods of torture are employed to make his life miserable.

It's time that a little common sense be used. If the dogs could shoot back, there probably would be a lot of loud yelping on the part of the humans in the path of the arrows.

We Have To Face Up To It!

We Might Have To Do Just That

That noisy fellow who rouses the Cuban rabble is making noises as if he thought the United States was coming to Havana to get that commercial airplane one of the noisy fellow's pistol-packers stole at gunpoint.

He shouldn't tempt fate. It is unlikely the United States will go to Havana to get the plane. But there are things the United States could do that would keep the noisy fellow from having any use of the stolen property.

It could find out with no trouble where the plane is being kept, and then it could send a few military planes to that particular point with orders to lay a stick of old-fashioned bombs on the object under discussion.

When it did this, moreover, it could tell the noisy fellow it was on the way and exactly what it intended to do. There wouldn't be enough time from takeoff to arrival over the target for him to move the plane anyway.

Then, to point up the lesson, it could serve notice it intended to put one old-fashioned bomb down the main stack of every factory he had stolen and if he chose to construe this as an act of war he should do so by all means, because the United States was choosing to construe it as routine retaliation for the theft of property, like the routine retaliation that greeted pirates and thieves in a simpler era before it became the fashion to trumpet up an excuse for every violation of international law and try to turn the tables on the law-abiding.

Bringing Back The Wetlands

We are indebted to Wildlife Management Institute of Washington for calling attention to a bill approved by the House of Representatives and sent over to the Senate. It would authorize a 10-year, $150 million program for the purchase of necessary wetlands for ducks and geese.

The reason for such legislation is the "rapid destruction of wetlands and the present dim outlook for duck populations this fall because of drought throughout much of the nesting area." The idea is to purchase wetlands with public funds to keep private interests from buying them and draining them. Wildlife Management Institute estimates a minimum of 12.5 million acres should be put in state and federal ownership to save waterfowl. State and federal governments presently own and manage about 5.5 million acres for ducks and geese.

The program brings back memories of a period during the New Deal when one of the big make-work projects was conversion of wetlands into drylands — and friends of the duck and goose got short shrift. They combined their voices with those of soil conservationists to point out that nature's plan was to have marshes, swamps and bogs, together with meandering brooks and rivers, to slow down runoff on its way to the sea and give it a chance to soak in.

They didn't get far against the fiery determination of stream — straighteners and marsh drainers, who were hell-bent on neatening up the landscape even if it meant erosion and destruction of waterfowl. It's like they keep telling us when we point out these things, though: You just can't stand in the way of progress. The trick is to figure out what progress is.

Baccalaureate In Captivity! See the Diploma Shot from a Gun!

Exaggeration of course. Circus king's money to higher education rates praise and the college will be operated in all seriousness and with property dignity. But at Sarasota, on the grounds of the circus family, it is easy to fancy a lingering flavor of the big top.

There could be an elephant or giraffe as the athletic mascot and we can fancy a lecture delivered by a professor on a flying trapeze, if not an assistant dean addressing students while sliding on head down a wire.

Kids who dream of running away with circus will be saddened. Who wants to run away with a culture program? Still there may be some boys who will head for the Ringling college hoping for an "Extraordinary, ferocious football team," "the world's wildest quarterback in captivity" and "greatest gleeb club known to man singing from backs of circus horses."

It will be called "New College." Name denotes a minor resort to adjectives, considering traditional circus-world press agency, and we might have expected Colossal College, Thriller-Diller University or the School of a Thousand Sensational Courses.

For Charles Ringling Mansion will be retained on campus for offices and we hope that somewhere on the grounds there will be a red and gold circus bandwagon just for old time's sake.

Never did we think, as we watched the elephants and camels come down Main Street, that they would one day be linked with the pursuit of knowledge or that Gargantua would be blazing a path to college reunions. (Altogether, boys, the old Bright College Years song, accompanied by the steam caliope!)

More than half the American general population have headaches, with women suffering more than men. Youngsters evidently have more headaches than adults, with 78 per cent of those under 20 having them, while 28 per cent of those over 60 seem to suffer from the ailment.

Abraham Lincoln was one of the first exponents of woman suffrage. He affirmed his approval of sharing the government of the country with those who bore its burden, and that this did not exclude the women.

How Strong Is Russia's Economy?

By A. J. Glass

How strong is Russia's economy today? Will it bear up under pressure of war—cold or hot? What new business ideas do the Soviets have?

These questions were asked by a team of marketing specialists who recently toured production centers in the Soviet Union.

Some key findings follow:

1. There is a new flexibility in Soviet planning, procurement and disposal of goods.
2. Some Western marketing ideas, particularly American sales techniques, seem to be gaining favor in Moscow.
3. An entirely production-oriented economy seems to be giving way to consumer-oriented policies.

So says D. Maynard Phelps, past president of the American Marketing Association and professor of marketing at the University of Michigan.

Recently returned from Russia as the leader of a group of touring American economists, Mr. Phelps analyzes the changing character of Soviet commercial life in the "Harvard Business Review."

The tour was paid for by the Ford Foundation.

SOVIET MARKETING is strong, perhaps stronger than we think, Mr. Phelps suggests. Russia's marketing trends are toward self-service food retailing, like American supermarkets, and more advertising and consumer credit plans.

To be sure, the consumer side of the economy is not getting anything like top priority but the volume of consumer goods has risen markedly since Stalin's death in 1953.

Because the Soviet economy is expanding at a heady pace, there will be more consumer's goods available to Russians in the future even if only the same proportion of total resources is devoted to them.

If, in addition, a larger share of production is thrown into the consumer sector—at the expense of capital goods and military weapons—the Soviet standard of living, in Mr. Phelps' view, could soon rise substantially.

This would be especially true, he said, if farm output could be increased through automation and thus more manpower released for industry.

Mr. Phelps believes it is unlikely that consumer pressure for a higher standard of living will move Soviet leaders to make a substantial shift in present planning to turn out the good things of life for Ivan.

He said: "We can hardly count on the possibility of economic weakness, due to inadequacy of the marketing system, as a deterrent to Soviet ambitions in any kind of war, hot or cold. Our rival for the world's favor is growing stronger internally."

"The external objectives of the Communist leaders are probably too strong to be put aside, even in part, by pressures from the consumer sector of the economy."

In the Soviet Union, the distribution of all goods and services is controlled by the Council of Ministers, of which Premier Khrushchev is chairman. The supreme body supervises Ministries of Trade in each of the 15 Soviet republics.

THIS MEANS that all stores, mail order houses, farmers' markets, vending machines, restaurants and even pawn shops are owned and run by the state. In addition, the trade ministries play an important role in planning, pricing, procurement and distribution of goods.

Such a system, of course, calls for an enormous bureaucracy, which in turn, can lead to distribution breakdowns and poor inherent in monolithic state ownership of all trade facilities mean that, in time, the Soviet Union will evolve a better distribution system than the private profit system of the United States?

Marshall I. Goldman of Harvard's Russian Research Center, another member of the tour, said this:

"Suppose we make the question more concrete and ask, 'Can the Soviet Union distribute milk more efficiently without having milk men from seven different companies going down the same street, delivering milk at seven adjacent houses as in the United States?'"

As yet, the answer is no because, while the Russians have only one milk man going down the street, he often fails to appear, and even then there is no guaranty that he will have any milk with him.

"Let us . . . ask whether such a system can provide service more efficiently than we can in the U.S.?" At this stage, the answer is also clearly no, but we must be alert to any changes."

Window To The West

By Ernie Weatherall

Of the many libraries and centers maintained by the United States Information Service (USIS), probably the America House in West Berlin is the most detested by the Communists.

The information center is a sharp thorn in the tender side of the East German Reds, mainly because news-starved East Berliners can go to the America House and read about the present Berlin crisis in the free-world press.

A reading room in the America House has been established for residents of the Soviet Zone by the USIS. Here, visitors from East Europe can even learn about developments in the Communist countries — developments which more often than not have been withheld from them.

"The room is open seven days a week and we have hundreds of visitors each day," explained Jay W. Gildner, former director of the America House and now assistant to the presidential press secretary, Pierre Salinger.

Many newspapers — including the New York Herald Tribune, "The New York Times," and "The Stars and Stripes" — are donated to the "East Reading Room."

MR. GILDNER said more than 5,000 pieces of material, texts of President Kennedy's speeches, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's unification policy, and other statements of free world leaders — are taken from the room each month.

"This is a tremendous amount when you think of the risk the visitors take to carry this material back into Communist East Berlin," Mr. Gildner pointed out.

The East Reading Room is not the only part of the America House patronized by the visitors from the Soviet Zone. They also may attend the movie theater, where they can see West German newsreels and other films forbidden by the Communists.

Since Russian is the mandatory second language in East German schools, the younger generation has little chance to learn English below college level.

"We have 13 English classes for beginners and intermediates each week just for Soviet Zone residents," the director explained.

When the East German visitors have mastered enough of the language, they attend discussion groups in English with West Berliners and Americans.

In the American House auditorium — spacious, modern and usually so well attended that extra chairs are set up in the aisles — everything from Dixieland to Debussy is presented.

The jazz concerts are most popular with young East Zoners since Communist party boss Ulbricht frowns on this "decadent" type of music. Rock'n'roll, by the way, is not played at the center.

LATELY, the East press has been sending in well-indoctrinated party line reporters over to the America House to do "expose" stories. Typical of the blast that follows is one recently in "Neues Deutschland," the official Communist party newspaper in East Germany.

It began: "The America House is a recruiting place for spies . . . a mecca of stupidity, a fool's paradise and a nest of reptiles."

But like all truths that those in power try to keep hidden with censorship and slander, these attacks only generate a stronger desire to learn what has been denied.

Despite the threats and pressures, people from the Soviet Zone take the elevated railway to the Zoo Station in West Berlin and visit the America House just across the street.

Awakening In Britain

By David Lawrence

Communist Infiltration Danger Now Seen

IN EUROPE

They are beginning to wake up in Britain to Communist infiltration—a trend that regrettably has not yet been paralleled in continental countries such as France and Italy.

The British Labor Party's national executive committee—including Hugh Gaitskill, the party's leader—has decided to inquire into the David Lawrence possible expulsion of the Electrical Trades Union from the Labor party because it has several Communist officers. The 170,000 members of the ETU pay annually about $170,000 in political contributions to the Labor party.

The action of the executive committee follows the step also taken this week by the Trades Union Congress of Britain, which sent an ultimatum to the same electrical union demanding that it get rid of Communist officers at once or face suspension from the National Trades Union Organization.

Here is an important union, with men in key jobs in the electricity mechanism or a whole country, and up to now nothing has been done to tackle in earnest the problem of its Communist officials. A letter published by the London Daily Telegraph says on this point:

"We are spending millions of pounds on defense, yet our security can be destroyed if such services as power, water, railways can be disrupted by the plots of a small caucus of union leaders who in their blind devotion to Marxism would have no hesitation at the bidding of their Communist masters in destroying democracy in their own country."

Fortunately, the largest unions in Britain are not dominated by Communists, though they have made steady efforts at infiltration.

The London Telegraph, in an editorial, insists that apathy among the rank and file of the members and their failure to vote in union elections have been a basic reason why the Communists get control. It adds:

"Action sterner than has been expected has finally been taken by the Trades Union Congress against the Communist-controlled executives of the Electrical Trades Union. . . . The challenge doubtless came all the more of a shock to the Communist leaders of the ETU in view of their past disposition to play upon the reluctance of the Trades Union Congress to intervene in union affairs."

"With only one abstention, the General Council has voted in support of a move to break the grip of the Communists on the ETU's affairs."

This means among other things that the union's executive (committee) was given 10 days of grace in which to rescind their decisions which nullify the powers of the new anti-Communist general secretary, Mr. Byrne."

Mention Austerity

By Truman Twill

As soon as word got out in Britain that austerity was going to be the official mood of the government, a predictable thing happened.

Britons did what Americans did during World War II whenever they heard that the government was going to crack down. They scrambled for advantage.

They began to hoard. They scurried to get under the wire. They figured it was every man for himself and devil take the hindmost.

All of us can remember how it worked the last time we had austerity in this country.

If the rumor circulated that the government was going to put rationing controls on soap, superpatriots rushed to the stores and bought soap by the case. Some of those dear ones must still be using soap they stashed away in their attics.

This is predictable. It is human nature.

Austerity is a challenge to the status-seekers, who have a chance to elbow into a circle of privilege not everybody can occupy.

Remember how some people had gasoline to throw away during the war while the rest of us had to coast downhill to make the stuff stretch?

Remember how insiders flaunted brand-name cigarettes and liquor labels that reminded you of old times when the rest of us puffed on combustibles of dubious origin and sampled beverages that brought back shudders of prohibition?

It's predictable whenever word gets around that austerity is going to be the order of the times. Austerity is always for the wide-eyed innocents.

The insider who knows the ropes has two ways to beat it. He either uses his influence to get what he wants, or he goes into the black market to make purchases.

Say the government decides to do something austere about

THIS IS NOT the only significant step taken against Communist activities in Britain. The National Executive Committee of the British Labor party—although clearing one of the party's members of Parliament who took part in a so-called "disarmament conference" at Oslo, Norway, sponsored by Communists—has just issued a warning against being taken in by so-called international conferences which ostensibly claim high motives but which are, in reality, Communist-inspired.

A report on the investigation made by a committee of officers of the British Labor party has found that most of the members of the organizing committee of the Oslo conference were also members of the World Peace Council, which is one of the organizations on the blacklist of the British Labor party.

Members of the Labor party were advised to check hereafter with the general secretary before accepting such invitations, so that there would be an opportunity to determine whether the meetings are bona fide.

In this instance, one of the initiators of the conference was Ilya Ehrenberg, a leading Soviet "peace" propagandist.

THOSE NAIVE persons who are often asked to sign advertisements in the American press for various organizations—usually taking the Communist side of the argument in international policies—might profit by accepting the same kind of advice as that now given in Britain.

Indeed, all the democracies are suffering from a lack of investigative machinery for the effective exposure of the intrigues of the Communists, who set up all sorts of international conferences to sway public opinion toward their point of view.

The tendency in Britain, as well as in the United States, has been to regard as a form of "witch-hunting" all efforts to publicize Communist tactics.

While there have been some cases in the United States in which innocent and well-meaning persons have been wrongly accused, there have been many more instances in which guilty ones have gotten away with their intrigues because of handicaps placed upon legislative committees which would otherwise expose them.

Softness in dealing with Communists in Britain has cost the world plenty.

Klaus Fuchs was "cleared" by the British, and his credentials were accepted by the American government. He then stole at a New Mexico laboratory the secrets of the atom bomb and gave them to Russia, which otherwise might have been delayed for many years in getting the nuclear weapons it has today.

The whole history of the world might have been altered if Communist infiltration had been taken more seriously in Britain just a few years ago.

meat. The insider finds out where he can buy all the meat he can eat, and this gives him an edge over lump-heads who don't know how to get around austerity programs.

And that's the way it goes. It's the way it is going in Britain, which is back to an austerity mood because money is going away faster than it's coming back.

Do you want to know how the young president in Washington and his eager advisers could start a boom that would blow away all economic uncertainty? It would be simple.

Let a rumor get into circulation that the government intends to ration steel, aluminum, automobiles, rubber, shoes, lumber, ladies hosiery, toilet paper, meat, tooth paste and bath soap. Demand would explode from coast to coast. All available supplies would be snapped up in 48 hours and mills and factories would have to put on extra shifts to build up depleted inventories. It would be that easy.

Human nature never changes. It is the only constant factor in a changing world. Mention austerity and privilege will become the order of the day.

Vetoes Face Assembly As Respite Ends

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio legislators return to their desks today after a two-week respite from work—but not from problems.

Problems like whether to try now to override Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's item-by-item veto of the entire second half of the two-year budget bill, or let that rest until September or later.

Republican problems like whether they can muster enough Democratic votes to even attempt to override the budget vetoes, or for that matter 13 other vetoes the governor dumped in the legislature's lap.

Technically, 15 vetoes of DiSalle's 24 for the session are pending, but two are several months old and are considered dead for practical purposes.

The solons have overridden six vetoes, but three others were sustained.

The Republican-controlled legislature was kept from running roughshod over the Democratic governor's vetoes due to a lack of the necessary three-fifths vote in both houses to override.

At least two House Democrats and three in the Senate have to vote with the entire GOP delegation to knock out a veto.

And since Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy ruled that it would take more than 1,000 roll calls in each house to override the item-by-item budget vetoes, this time-consuming process may try the patience of even the most dedicated lawmaker.

The Republicans may try a few test votes on the budget item vetoes, just to see where they stand. But if they don't stand a chance, they likely will put off the attempt to override until late summer or early fall, and in the meantime try to muster the needed votes.

Aside from the vetoes, other measures on which action is expected include the so-called additions and betterments bill to finance capital improvements and the nearly $1 million sundry

A New Springfield motorist whose car crashed on Route 30 in Hancock County early Saturday was fined $100 and costs at a hearing Sunday before Squire John D. Herron.

Charles W. Lippy, 34, was fined on a charge of driving while intoxicated filed after a wreck that involved three cars.

Squire's deputies said Lippy went off the highway, hit a hillside, and bounced sideways back on the road. A following car was able to halt safely to avoid the wreckage, but later was struck in the rear by a third auto.

Lippy was driving a car owned by Alexander V. Tessaro, 23, of Cuddy, Pa. Tessaro was fined $100 and costs for permitting another person under the influence of alcohol to drive his auto.

Squire Herron also revoked Lippy's driving privileges for six months.

William A. Clark, 52, of New Cumberland R. D. 1 was fined $50 and costs on a charge of reckless driving filed by sheriff's deputies.

New Ideas Stimulate Reducing Plan

Exciting ideas stimulate the imagination. Anything that lifts you out of the rutted-in-habit pattern enlivens your interest and renews your enthusiasm. The magic is within yourself.

Your goal in summer slimming is to be one whole dress size slimmer ere it is time to buy a new fall dress. Go window shopping. Or, if you have a favorite fall dress in your wardrobe, one that is too small, hang it out in plain sight.

Visualize yourself wearing it smoothly. Make a date to meet a friend in mid-September. The prospects of this meeting can spur you on. Picture your friend complimenting you on your lovely figure.

THE MENTAL reminders which helped one young mother to win through to victory bear re-printing, and mid-summer is an ideal time. Here they are...

"Having dieted many times, I know well what the struggle is like. From your column and my own thinking, I have written five helping rules for becoming slim...and staying slim.

"1. Focus your thoughts on your goal always. Thinking positively, in terms of what you want, makes for success. Thinking of eating forbidden food will only lead to finding excuses for doing so. When your mind veers to thoughts of food at odd hours, flash on your inner mind the picture of you, wearing that size slimmer dress. Picture your friends congratulating you on your slimmer figure.

"2. Be faithful to yourself. By keeping on in the direction of good food habits, you are doing yourself an enormous favor! Here's a tip...eat only during the specified times of day and you will want food only at these times. This becomes habit...beautiful habit.

"3. When tempted to go on a 'spree'...pull yourself out of that rut by realizing that over-indulgence now can undo all your previous days of trying. Immediately switch to your new way of thinking and picturing success.

"4. Change your attitude about food. Know what you want and then make advance decisions along certain lines. 'Set' your mind to hurdle any obstacle.

FINALLY, ask yourself this: Is the pleasure of an extra five minutes of eating some favorite food, or eating seconds, worth it? What do you want? To wear that slimmer size! That's the picture to keep in mind. You can have what you want."

The triumphant young mother who succeeded with these rules suggested that you save this list and re-read daily. Happy slimming!

Sam M. Doughty, 54, of 225 3rd St., Wellsville, was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol after his 1951 four-door sedan struck a utility pole at 2:30 this morning on W. 8th St. near Lisbon St., knocking the traffic light at the foot of Lisbon St. out of service, police said.

Officers had few details of the crash. Doughty's auto was west-bound when it struck the pole on the north side of the "super road" just west of Lisbon St., officers said. The front end of the car was damaged. The signal had been out of service briefly about a week ago because of work on the nearby freeway project.

Doughty was fined $200 and a d. costs, sentenced to 10 days in jail and his driver's license was suspended for six months at a hearing this morning in Municipal Court.

Robert J. Craven, 43, of 1058 St. Clair Ave. was charged with reckless driving after a mishap Saturday at 8:09 p. m. at Walnut St. and St. Clair Ave. that damaged his 1951 four-door sedan and a two-door sedan operated by Diana Lee Snyder, 21, of Glenmoor, police said.

The young woman told police her auto was halted at the intersection and Craven's car drifted backward, striking it. Craven told police his car would not go forward when he attempted to start from the intersection. Instead, it drifted backward and hit the Snyder auto, he said. There was damage to the left rear fender of the Craven car and the right front fender of the Snyder auto, police said.

Craven pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs on the reckless charge at a hearing in Municipal Court.

Pennsylvania Ave. 50 feet east of Central Ave.

2-Car Mishap Hurts 3 In Lisbon District

A head-on collision near Lisbon Sunday caused injury to three, while a Hanoverton area child was hurt Saturday when she darted into the path of an auto, the Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported.

The Lisbon area crash at 6:40 p. m. on Roller Coaster Rd. involved cars operated by Herbert E. McCullough, 29, of Lisbon R.D. 5 and Wilma G. Chamberlain, 23, of Lisbon R. D. 3.

The crash occurred when McCullough went left of center in his 1952 model pickup truck and crashed into the woman's auto, the patrol reported.

Wilma Chamberlain, who was operating a 1957 model coach, received contusions of both knees and a laceration of the upper lip. She was driving south, while McCullough was headed north.

Denny Chamberlain, 2-months, suffered a laceration of the forehead, abrasions of the nose, and a possible skull fracture. Another passenger in the Chamberlain auto, Joyce Duoley, 16, of East Liverpool R. D. 2, received contusions and abrasions of the right elbow. All were treated at Salem City Hospital.

The patrol said McCullough was cited on a charge of driving left of center.

In another mishap Sunday, Edward Rice, 24, of Salem hit the rear of the car of John Edward Gamble, 22, of Winona.

The patrol said Rice was attempting to pass Gamble when the mishap occurred at 9:40 p. m. on Route 14 alternate near Salem. Rice later lost control and crashed into a ditch. He was cited on a charge of improper passing. Neither driver was injured.

Susan Bielski, 5, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 was injured when she darted into the path of a car driven by Gertrude Milzheimer, 64, of Canton Saturday at 5:45 p. m. on Route 172.

The patrol said the child had waited for another car to pass, then darted in front of the Canton woman, who was driving east. The youngster received abrasions of the back and both legs and a slight laceration of the scalp.

Floyd Marshall, 20, of Kensington Route 1 escaped injury when his car slid after he applied the brakes on a curve and rolled over Saturday at 7:15 a. m. on County Rd. 402, near the Columbiana-Carroll County line. His 1959 model car was damaged moderately.

time out for passage of a 747-billion defense appropriations bill. A subcommittee already has increased this measure $1 billion beyond the extra $3,454,600,000 Kennedy asked for the military buildup to cope with the Berlin crisis.

The House, which previously voted $42,711,000,000 in defense funds, is expected to concur in most of the additions certain to be made by the Senate.

Kennedy originally asked for $4,326,500,000 in economic and military aid for underdeveloped countries in the fiscal year which began July 1. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved $4,326,500,000—a cut of $436 million. The House Foreign Affairs Committee approved $4,355,500,000—a cut of $407 million.

On the $8.8-billion five-year program, about $7.3 billion would come from treasury borrowing. The remainder would come from repayment of postwar loans.

Administration hopes for approval of the long-range loan fund were pinned on a compromise Democratic leaders believed might undermine the case of opponents who have attacked "backdoor spending" through Treasury borrowing. Critics have contended that Congress would be giving up its responsibility for expenditures by a five-year grant of loaning authority to the President.

of the advantage of a special assembly unless new violence erupts in Tunisia.

If the bloc unanimously supports the proposal, a special assembly is virtually certain. It requires 50 member signatories to convene the 99-nation body and the 9-nation Soviet bloc is expected to support the move. So are Yugoslavia and Cuba.

Assembly President Frederick H. Boland reportedly received word in Dublin to be ready to return to New York at once if the members decide to place the Tunisian crisis before the assembly.

Liberian Ambassador Nathan

Barnes announced he would seek support for special assembly debate on Tunisia after the Security Council failed Saturday to take any action on Tunisia's aggression charges.

The council issued a cease-fire call July 22 to stop the fighting between French and Tunisian troops around Bizerte base and in the Sahara south of Tunis. The council also called on all troops to return to positions they held before fighting flared July 19.

Sgt. And Mrs. John James To Reside In Washington

After a honeymoon trip through eastern states, Sgt. and Mrs. John Henry James will reside near Washington, D. C.

Mrs. James is the former Miss Michele McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McDonald of Penn Ave., Midland, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John James of Lubbock, Tex.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Fr. Thomas Rodgers, July 22 at noon in the Midland Presentation Catholic Church. The altar was decorated with white gladioli and snapdragons interspersed among a background of palms and ferns.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a waltz length lined white organza gown featuring alencon lace bodice, short sleeves and a bouffant skirt. She wore an elbow length veil of sheer illusion which was held in place with a lace cap trimmed with seed pearls. She also wore white French kid gloves. She carried a bridal arrangement of stephanotis and lilies of the valley surrounded with white feathers and centered with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a gold cross. She observed the familiar wedding traditions.

Her maid of honor, Miss Stephanie Bream of Harrisburg, a cousin of the bride, wore crystal aqua ballerina length gown, identical to that of the bride. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies and white roses.

Miss Marcia Bream, also of Harrisburg, another cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. She was attired identical to the maid of honor and also carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies and white roses. Both attendants wore shoulder length veils enhanced with yellow bows. The bride's gifts to her attendants were white kid gloves.

Mrs. McDonald chose an azure blue jersey outfit for her daughter's wedding and her corsage was white carnations and pink roses.

Frank Janetka of Chicago was best man and John Kert of Washington, D. C., was usher.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts to the bridal party and members of the immediate families at Deramo's Restaurant. They received about 75 guests in their home in the evening.

The bride was graduated from Mt. Gallitzin Academy in Baden and Mercy Hospital School of Nursing in Pittsburgh. She is employed as a registered nurse at Georgetown University Hospital in Washington. Her husband, who is serving with the Army, is stationed at Arlington, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bream of Harrisburg, uncle and aunt of the bride, entertained at the rehearsal dinner in the Penn - Beaver Hotel in Rochester July 21.

Crash Kills Ohio Family

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A family of five was wiped out early this morning when a truck bore down and smashed into the rear of their car, the state highway patrol reported. Two other persons were injured.

Officials said the victims were Louis Carr, 33, of Covington, Ky., his wife Louise, 33, and their three children: Jacquelyn Esther, 4-weeks-old; Gary Louis, 4, and Mary Elaine, 5.

The accident occurred on Interstate 75 about 3½ miles north of the Hamilton County line in Butler County.

The patrol gave this account of the accident:

Carr was driving an auto which was pushing another car with Tobe Moyer, 66, of Middletown at the wheel. Riding with him were Oliver Williams, 33, and Lillian Williams, 50, both of Middletown.

A tank truck driven by Henry Doggett, 43, of Fairborn came up behind the Carr vehicle and rammed it.

The truck's momentum carried it up and over the Carr auto, and it came to rest with its front wheels on the Moyer car and its rear wheels on the Carr auto.

The patrol said Oliver Williams and Moyer were injured.

Riding with Doggett in the truck was Jerry Nicholson, 14, of Cahokia, Ill.

Summer TV Saves Spike's Life

By SPIKE JONES
He'll Do Culture?
Hal Humphrey is on vacation. His guest today is Spike Jones, a man who sees all sorts of advantages in summer TV.

I deeply appreciate this opportunity to explain to your many readers why my wife, Helen, and I like doing a summer television series.

First, a summer television series gives me a chance to get away from my kids while they're out of school. This saves me a lot of money that I'd be spending on summer camps—for Helen and me.

Can you possibly compare the comforts of rehearsing six days a week in a beautiful air-conditioned studio to being home with a 10- and 12-year-old who have been suddenly let out of stir?

IN THE FIRST PLACE, it's almost impossible for my kids to have too much respect for me, because they've been watching the 19 insipid husbands and fathers in the situation comedies on television all winter. So if I have enough brains to outthink our 3-year-old Gina Maria, I'm just not playing the game.

The first day home, my 10-year-old wants me to play a game called "Life or Death With Father." I'm taken out to the garage and frisked, tied from head to foot with a rope, hit with a rubber blackjack, machine-gunned and after a lecture on some of the GOOD things the Mafia has done, I'm left for dead.

"I find out too late I'm playing the part of Eliot Ness, and since my children are half Italian, my 10-year-old is getting even for every time Bob Stack said 'Luigi' all winter!

ALSO, IF I didn't have to rehearse a summer television series, I'd be asked to umpire some of the adult-supervised baseball games in which Spike Jr. participates.

I was involved in this only once, and up until that time, I thought these Little Leagues were for kids.

However, after getting into a beef with a pitcher's mother who looked like John Carradine, a shortstop's father who I'm positive carried a knife and a catcher's mother who was about as feminine as Mrs. Khrushchev, I tried to talk Spike Jr. into dropping baseball and taking up ballet lessons.

I'd rather they'd call him a sissy than me! I couldn't be lucky enough for Don Knotts' kids to play on Spike's team.

ANOTHER wonderful advantage in a summer series is that instead of having only three months to plan 39 winter programs, we have the entire nine months to create all kinds of satirical, musical sketches for only 13 shows.

Now, by the time these hundreds of ideas are boiled down to only the ones that won't offend minority groups, we have at least enough material for two half-hour programs; so that leaves us only 11 shows to worry about.

Very seriously, the tremendous advantage in a summer series is the fact that the networks, advertising agencies and sponsors don't seem to go into shock if your show is not in the Top 10 during this period.

They are very lenient in allowing us to try new ideas, knowing that it's only through experimentation that we can find popular segments and personalities that the viewers will want to see every week.

THIS YEAR, our policy is, "If you don't like our show, wait a minute."

Also, we are going to respect the FCC's Newton Minow's advice to the broadcasters and devote more time to culture in our programs by integrating educational and intellectual overtones with the type of entertainment that, indicated by the ratings, the public wants.

We will do a Western, but as grand opera, called "Tales of Wells Fargo" or "Have Gondola, Will Travel."

I will mix news with a soap opera, which will be called "Meet Depressed."

I'd like Hanna-Barbera to do a cartoon segment of Medic called "The Gallstones."

And if my budget holds out, I will remake a famous movie starring two intellectuals in an adventure segment, namely, Brendan Behan and David Susskind in "The High and the Mighty."

Anyway, we're going to have a lot of fun this summer, and we hope you'll join us.

$24,110 Due County

For Liquor Licenses

Columbiana County will receive $24,110 as its share of the second distribution of liquor license money for the year, according to the office of Auditor James A. Rhodes.

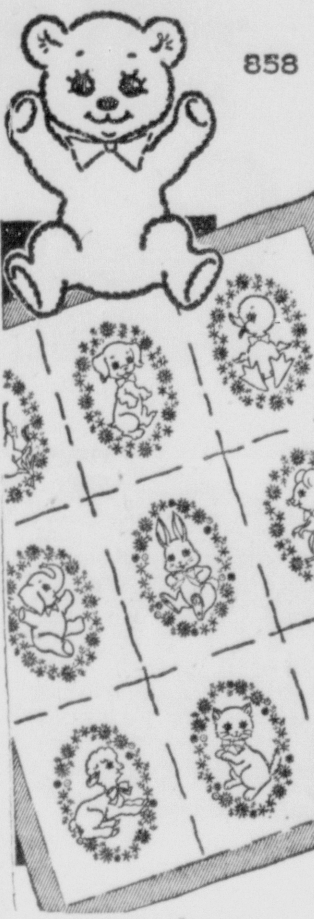

The distribution was scheduled to start today. A total of $2,227,903 will be paid, covering permit fees for April, May and June.

Rhodes also said there will be additional money for the general funds of local governments early in August from a two-month distribution of sales tax money.

Columbiana County received $2,870 last year for 2,296 patient days in tuberculosis hospitals, according to the office of Auditor James A. Rhodes at Columbus. It was pointed out this is one operation of state government that costs the taxpayers less year after year and Rhodes noted that there has been a decrease of 46 per cent in such assistance in the past eight years.

Lots of crumbs at the bottom of that package of ready-to-eat crisp cereal? Use them as a coating for fried foods.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I renovate canvas awnings that have faded, but are otherwise in good condition?

A. You can often freshen these awnings by painting them with a solution of raw linseed oil, two parts, and turpentine, one part. The oil deepens the color and removes the faded appearance, while the turpentine thins the oil and helps it penetrate.

Q. How can I keep the basement from getting damp and musty?

A. Placing pans of unslaked lime about the basement will eliminate any musty and damp condition, and will make the walls dry and sweet. The size and condition of the basement governs the amount to be used.

Q. How can I add flavor to meats?

A. Try brushing some French dressing over the meats and vegetables when they are broiled, and this will add extra flavor and help with the browning.

4 Salem Men Face Hearing

LISBON — Four Salem area men will be charged today in Northwest District Court in Salem for destruction of property, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

Albert Powell Schmauch, 19; Thomas W. Earl, 22, and Luther N. Griggs, 19, have admitted to the recent series of window breakings and phone booth robberies, the sheriff said.

Chief Deputy James Miller broke the case after Salem police picked up Griggs and Richard E. Shasteen, 21, of Salem about 3 a.m. Friday in the Memorial building, allegedly attempting to pry a pay phone off the wall.

The sheriff said they admitted in statements to breaking four windows and a phone booth in Salineville, a phone booth in Kensington, a window in Zeigler's Market south of Salem, two windows in the Normandie Isle north of Lisbon, windows in Miller's IGA store in Hanoverton, a phone booth in Elkton and phone booths at the swimming pools at Lisbon and Firestone Park. Not all were involved in each case of vandalism, which occurred since July 21.

Three are being held in the County Jail, the other in Salem Jail.

A fifth suspect is out of the state.

1,000 See Horsepulling

A horsepulling contest Saturday afternoon in which 20 teams matched "horsepower" for cash prizes helped conclude activities of the Highlandtown centennial.

Nearly 1,000 watched the four hour contest held on a dirt strip near the fire station of the community on Route 39.

William Eckels of Washington, Pa., is pictured with his team that won first prize of $30 in the heavyweight class. The team, "Dick" and "Ben," competed in a contest for the second time. The animals weigh 4,810 pounds.

Dick Rudibaugh of Lisbon won first prize in the lightweight class.

The winning teams pulled 8-

500 pounds the required distance of 22 1/2 feet.

The lower photo shows part of the large crowd that lined both sides of the dirt strip to watch the contest.

Everett Cain of Berlin Center, who entered a 4,200-pound team, won second prize in the heavy-weight division, while Dale Rudibaugh of Wellsville won third with his 2,700-pound team.

Red Smith of Baltic was second, Wilbert Jones of Leetonia, third, and Dale Arnold, fourth, in the lightweight division, with teams weighing less than 3,000 pounds.

11 Died 7 Years Ago

Ex-Coal Miner Haunted By Worst Traffic Crash

By GEORGE W. HACKETT

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — When his body healed, Hexie Maxie came out of the desolate eastern Kentucky hills to seek peace. He hasn't found it yet.

The former coal miner's life changed seven years ago today, after a ghastly, 30-second ride in an ancient auto down one of the highest mountains of the Cumberland chain.

There were 12 passengers, including Maxie's wife and three children, but only he survived the fiery crash which the National Safety Council called the worst single auto accident in its history.

"I still can't sleep some nights thinking about it," Maxie said.

He stopped to fill a customer's order. "I got out of mining and drifted into restaurant work after it happened."

Maxie remembers the excitement when his brother-in-law, Thomas Brown, bought the 13-year-old car the day before the mishap.

"Our wives wanted to see the coal mine where both of us worked so we decided to make the trip the next day. We wanted it to be a holiday."

The Maxies, Brown, his wife, their four children, and a teenage girl who lived with them crowded into the automobile and started out.

All went well "until we came over the crest of Pine Mountain near Whitesburg."

4 In Assault Charges

Await Salem Hearings

LISBON — Four Alliance young men will have hearings today before County Judge Luther Donbar of Salem for assault and battery on Paul Waite, also of Alliance and manager of the concession stand at Park Auto theater east of Alliance on Route 62.

The assault was reported to the sheriff's office Thursday around 11:30 p. m. Names of the suspects were withheld until warrants were issued and they had been arrested.

Waite filed charges against Michael Paul Cantwell, 20, Russell James Fazzini, 19, Henry Ernest Cananico, 19, and Robert Nelson James, 19. The youths are in the County Jail awaiting the hearing.

If you haven't a pepper mill, and a recipe calls for freshly-ground coarse pepper, crush the peppercorns with your rolling pin.

"He (Brown) tried his brakes and didn't have any."

The car, rolling down the steep, winding highway, bounced off one cliff to another, overturned, and burst into flames. Maxie got out a rear window. The others were trapped inside.

Maxie says the gasoline tank caught fire as he escaped.

He grabbed an axe—"I still do not know where it came from"—and tried to hack an opening for the others until the heat drove him away. When he went back a second time he was pulled away by bystanders.

Maxie, burned severely over most of his body, spent months in a hospital. When he was finally released Maxie moved from town to town and finally came to Newport.

Last week the 42-year-old restaurant worker went home for the first time since the accident, but his memories drove him away again. "It'll be a long time before I return."

Maxie rides in an auto from time to time but never has learned to drive.

"I don't want the responsibility,"

Pipe Insulation Query Answered

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We're moving into a new house shortly. None of the pipes is insulated? Should they be and what is the purpose?

Answer: Cold water pipes should be insulated when it is necessary to prevent them from dropping, due to condensation. The condensation is caused when warm, humid air comes in contact with the cold pipes. There are several ways of insulating such pipes. In one method, a tube-type covering is placed around the pipes. In another, a wrap-around insulation is used. In still another, a heavy molasses-like product is flowed on the pipes with a paint brush.

Hot water pipes and steam pipes are insulated to prevent loss of heat. There also are several ways of doing this, the most common being the use of the tube-type covering mentioned above.

Question: A basement room in our house has old fiberboard walls, which now are in poor condition. I would like to put up gypsum board walls. Can I install them right over the fiberboard?

Answer: Yes, you can put up the gypsum board directly over the fiberboard. But be sure to nail the new walls into the wood framing and not to the fiberboard. The fiberboard will give you excellent added insulation.

and a gas refrigerator with automatic ice-server.

The large dining area is beyond the kitchen. A doorway from this room opens on the two-car attached garage. Dining room furniture is Danish modern, consisting of a table, china closet and four matching chairs. Walls here and in the living room and bedroom wing hallway are lemon colored, while ceilings are white.

Directly behind the dining room, at the rear of the home, is the over-size living room with sliding full-length glass doors leading to a paved patio area. A brick fireplace, painted white, dominates a side wall. Furniture, including a green sofa, two matching fireside chairs, end tables and electric organ, is of contemporary design.

To the left of the living room is the bedroom wing. Reached through a short hallway. One bedroom, furnished as a den, has a sofa covered in white plastic, matching end tables and lamps and an occasional chair. The guest bedroom is furnished with double bed and matching dresser and chest painted white with rose trim.

The master bedroom, at the front of the home, has French Provincial furnishings consisting of white and gold dresser, double bed and chest of drawers. Two matching lamps with gold bases complement the lilac bedspread and beige painted walls.

Both the private bath, off the master bedroom, and the main bathroom have tiled floors and large vanity-type wash bowls with enclosed bases.

Floors throughout the home are of inlaid blocks in a variety of hardwoods.

The basement area, reached by a stairway from the dining room, houses the three-and-one-half-ton gas air conditioner that provides either warm or cool air. Here also are located the automatic gas clothes dryer and matching washer, gas incinerator, and 40-gallon, automatic gas water heater.

Safety Steps For Powder, Bathrooms

CHICAGO — Highlights of new and remodeled homes are the modern bathrooms that combine beauty and convenience.

But in the midst of this functional glamour, we often overlook the safety factors that allow us to enjoy these facilities to the fullest.

According to the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, the following safety points for bathrooms should be followed:

Every bathroom and powder room should contain grab bars placed in strategic locations around the bathtub. Acting as an extra measure of security, grab bars should be secured to the studding of the back and side walls of the bathtub.

Never use plumbing or heating pipes as ground for electric wires. Such a practice is doubly dangerous. Not only could you and your family suffer severe shocks, but also the electric current in the pipes will cause corrosion to the piping and any connected tanks.

Electrical appliances never should be used near the tub where they may be touched or where they may actually fall into the water.

Glass bottles and containers should not be placed on the bathtub. When your eyes are full of soap and water, bottles could be knocked off too easily and serious cuts could result.

A modern styled medicine cabinet should be placed in every bathroom and powder room to store medicines and other items that may be harmful to children.

Your plumbing contractor is qualified to design and install a modern bathroom that offers you the benefits of beauty, convenience and safety.

Ring, Change Missing After Theft In Tavern

A Wellsville area woman told police her change purse containing a diamond ring valued at $85 and $3 in change was stolen Sunday at 1 a. m. when she laid it on the bar at the Oasis Tavern on Market St.

The theft was reported by Mrs. Doris C. Richman of Wellsville, R. D. 1. She said she was seated at the bar and removed the change purse from her pocketbook to pay for a glass of beer, then laid the purse on the bar. When she started to place the change purse back in her pocketbook, it was gone, she said.

Meanwhile, Charles McGraw, 2509 Woodbine Ave., told police Saturday a hubcap was stolen from his auto while it was parked on St. Clair Ave. between 8:30 and 9 p. m. Friday. The thief also broke a window and a small vent in the right door, he said.

Town Was So Clean That Jail Was Dusty

MIDDLEPORT, N. Y. (AP) — Apparently there's nothing wrong with the jail here that a little business wouldn't cure.

Police have received a report on an inspection the State Commission of Correction made during the spring. It says: "The cells and cell room were clean but somewhat dusty from disuse on the date of inspection."

There were no detentions in 1960 or up to the date of inspection, village officials explained.

Arbor Makes Good Divider

PORTLAND, Ore. — There are many ways to introduce charm and originality into your back yard. It doesn't take a big bank roll or even a green thumb.

For many families, that sparkle of originality will come from yard structures that double fanciful design with practicality.

For example, many yards need divider screens to mark off the children's play area, an unsightly compost pile, or a cutting garden where you can grow blooms specifically for house use instead of for garden adornment.

For any of these purposes, a divider screen whimsically designed as an arbor will be effective. And it will be a delightful addition to the yard, as well. Built tall enough, the arbor screen can also act as a curtain for the yard, increasing privacy.

Common materials and simple tools — hammer and saw, level and square — are used to build an arbor yard divider. Fir 4x4s, bolted to concrete piers to keep them free of the ground, can be used for the supporting posts, and the main beams can also be 4x4s. Other framing can be 2x4 fir.

For the crown, use 1x6s set on edge to produce interesting shadow patterns. If the 1x6s are spaced a foot apart, they will make a good trellis for vines, though string guides may be needed in the early stages of growth.

Something very simple could be used for the screen's design. Louvers would be handsome, or it could be a simple pattern of 1x2s nailed vertically in the framework and spaced a quarter inch apart to produce decorative shadow patterns.

Again to make the most of shadow patterns, design the arbor divider screen in a boomerang angle or a crescent moon curve to avoid the flatness of a straight line.

Finish can be either paint or stain, but it should be chosen with an eye towards the house siding and the finish used on any yard fencing. Weathered wood is also good looking and is compatible with both painted and stained siding.

You'll find the arbor screen will give you perfect privacy for sun bathing, and you'll be smart to add an attached bench for this purpose. The bench should be plenty wide and can be built of ordinary fir 2x4s, with 4x4s for the legs.

Tips On Clearing Your Sink Drain

CHICAGO — as your kitchen sink drain is the most used in your home, it is here where stoppages often occur.

These stoppages usually are caused by liquid fats from dishwashing that are deposited in the pipes. After a certain length of time, a substantial amount of grease can build up and the drain becomes clogged.

Clearing the sink drain may be accomplished in one of several ways, advises the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau. Often the trouble lies just below the sink strainer and can be loosened with a long screw driver or piece of wire.

Also, there are many excellent and powerful commercial drain-clearing compounds available from your plumbing contractor. It is advisable to use great care in handling these compounds as their highly potent chemical ingredients could cause severe burn on the hands and arms. All reliable compounds carry full instructions regarding their use and these should be read and followed carefully.

Another method for clearing the drain would be to use the familiar "plumber's friend." Before using this implement, you should pour boiling water with a little household ammonia into the drain to soften the matter that is clogging the pipe.

However, prevention of sink clogging can best be accomplished by carefully watching what is emptied into the sink drain.

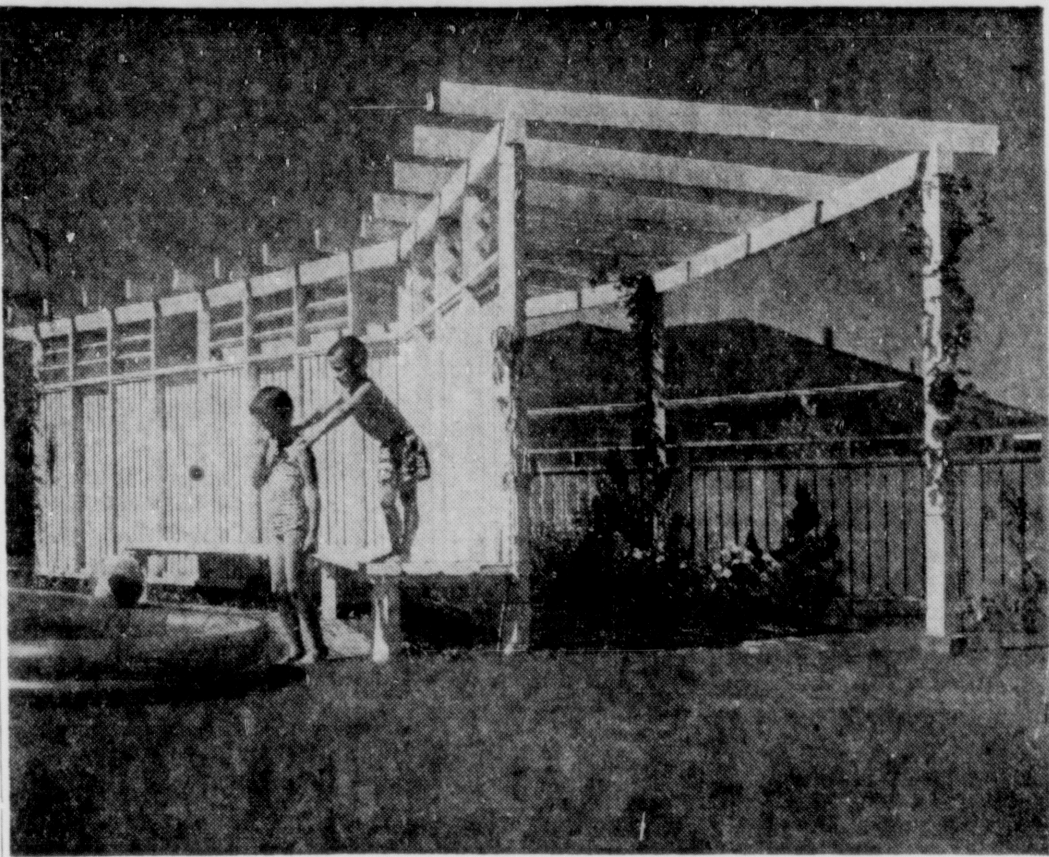

Beyond the basic maintenance of clearing drains or replacing washers, every homeowner should rely on the advice and service of a competent plumbing contractor.

Ex-Financier Taken

WEST SPRING LAKE, Mich. (AP)—John Borden, 78, retired financier and explorer and former father-in-law of Adlai E. Stevenson, died Saturday after a long illness. He was the father of Ellen Borden Stevenson, divorced wife of the U. S. ambassador to the United Nations and twice Democratic nominee for president. Another daughter, Mary Elizabeth Borden Hines, 52, widow of Ralph J. Hines, former lumber company president, died in New York Saturday.

Ex-Elks Ruler Dies

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Joseph B. Kyle Sr., 71, former national grand exalted ruler of the Elks Lodge, died Saturday. Kyle, former sheriff at Gary, Ind., ran unsuccessfully for Indiana lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket in 1932 and 1936.

DELIGHTFUL YARD ACCESSORY is this angled arbor which screens a cutting garden. Built of white painted fir, the arbor is simple to construct. Four-by-fours are the main supports and posts are set on concrete bases to keep them free of the ground. Crown of wide-spaced 1x6s casts protective shade for delicate blooms growing in cutting garden. Attached bench is perfect for sun bathing.

'Utopia' Around Corner

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

That wonderful home of the future we've been hearing about is just around the corner. A few lucky ones are enjoying some of the marvels now.

After a conversation with William Street, chairman of the Seattle World's Fair, Century 21, one finds that utopian living is behind the talking stage.

Street advises that "one of the big wonders of Century 21 will be an electronics home of the future, never before shown."

SOME OF the ideas have been put to use, and others have passed the drawing boards, says Street, who is busy rounding up more possibilities for the fair which will open in April.

The house of the future can be taken apart. And if you're lucky enough to own one of these mobile units the wings of which can be moved, discarded or replaced at whim, you can enjoy a vacation in a wing of your very own house. Just move the bedrooms to the shore when you get tired of the mountains or vice versa.

Heating, plumbing and wiring will be a one-unit core delivered to your site complete. The home will be equipped with its own power plant and be dust and bug-free.

We mustn't let the joys of anticipation be ruined by the thought that this home of the future will probably need a built-in serviceman. Push-buttons have a way of getting out of whack. And if we think we have troubles now with modern appliances and other gizmos . . . well!

HERE ARE some more joys for that home paradise:

The use of light materials — foamed plastics, foamed cement, and glass, and combinations of plastics, paper and light metals. Materials impregnated with color.

Air curtain walls that offer complete protection from weather but give us open living space.

Heating devices woven into rugs and installed in walls and furniture.

Showers for lazy types that will envelope them in a spray of water and soap; rinse and dispense a solvent to evaporate the moisture making it unnecessary to dry with a towel.

A pillow phonograph that will put you to sleep and wake you up.

Windows that close automatically when it rains.

Thermo electric panels that will heat, cool and light a room.

Doors that will open when you approach and a method of hanging coats without touching them.

Wall-size television screens and closed-circuit TV for more togetherness.

We'll be playing bridge with people on TV and our electric and gas meters will be read by telephone. And we won't see the garbage man either, as we shrink the waste into pellets to be used as fertilizer.

We may not be around when the home computer really becomes a status symbol, but we can't help but note that it will help round up the children, plan the menus and remind mom of dentist appointments.

Who Makes Home Decision, The Husband Or The Wife?

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

When a husband and a wife shop around for a new home, who makes the final decision on the house to be bought?

Our guess would be that the wife's opinion is the deciding factor in the selection.

We might even concede that, in many cases, it's a joint decision. But we can't go for the belief that "it is usually the husband who decides which house is to be bought."

Yet that statement, quoted above, is incorporated in a research report based on a national survey of the residential market.

It was prepared for the National Association of Home Builders and leading manufacturers as the basis for a drive to expand the market for new homes.

Men and women look for different things when walking through a new house.

The man is especially interested in construction features, even if his knowledge of the subject isn't very precise. The woman is interested in the things with which she will have to deal directly. The kitchen, for instance. Is it the kind of kitchen she wants, both in the matter of size and conveniences?

When she looks at the living room, she visualizes it in relation to the furniture she has or intends to purchase. And more and more, the woman of today critically examines the amount of closet space available. She knows that her housekeeping chores will be all the more difficult when there isn't enough closet room.

A woman is also very much aware of the availability of neighborhood facilities.

Is the shopping area convenient? What about the location and kind of schools? Where is the nearest place of worship of the family's religion? And even though it's the husband who has to do the commuting, it's usually the wife who asks the questions about transportation.

Above all, the woman is vitally concerned with the kind of neighborhood the house is in, taking particular note of whether it has a general appearance of cleanliness and orderliness.

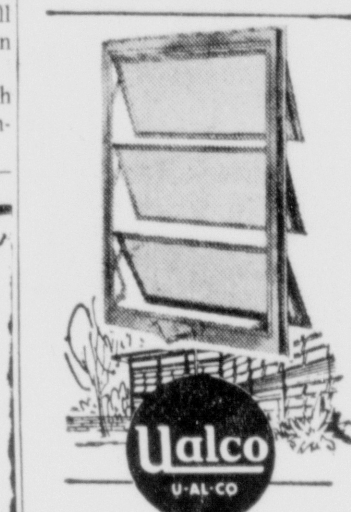

The husband, in addition to his over-all judgment of construction details, prides himself on being able to decide whether the house is priced right.

He may not give an on-the-spot opinion, but you can be sure he will volunteer his appraisal when he and his wife are talking things over later.

Survey or no survey, show us a husband who will insist on buying a house his wife doesn't like — and we'll show you a husband who is going to regret his decision.

Serve squares of freshly-baked spice cake with sliced fresh peaches and whipped cream; call it spicy peachshortcake!

SUMMER AND YOUR SEPTIC TANK

Temperature has a great effect on the biological life which is so important to the good operation of a septic tank system. The closer that the temperature of a septic tank is to body temperature (93.6°F) the better the operation will be. Therefore, the operation of septic tanks during summer months should be better than the rest of the year. However, we humans also notice the change in temperature, and are inclined to take more frequent showers and baths, thus putting a greater load of water and soap upon the septic tanks. More frequent washing of clothes is also noticeable during the warmer weather.

HOW SHOWERS and WASHING MACHINES AFFECT SEPTIC TANKS

The additional soaps, detergents, and body oils that enter septic tanks during the summer season, increase the scum mat, and flow out to the drainage areas. This means that a more sluggish system will develop, since the scum will clog over-flow pipes and seal up the pores of the drainfield. In addition, excessive use of detergents and bleaches will destroy much of the biological life in the system. Odors too are more noticeable during the warmer weather.

HOW SEA-CAL HELPS

Since the enzymes in Sea-Cal are extremely effective against fats and greases, they will breakdown and digest much of the scum mat in the septic tank, and then penetrate into the drainfield to continue working on the solids in that area, so as to make a much better operating drainage system. The additional bacteria, many millions of which are contained in each gram of Sea-Cal, will replace the bacteria which are destroyed by the detergents and the bleaches. We, therefore, recommend that Sea-Cal be used regularly during summer months, and throughout the entire year.

Baseball's Barber Stops Yanks; LA Wins As Reds Split

Orioles Win 2 From NY; Tigers Lose

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
Baltimore's fine pitching made the Yankees' home run thunder sound as loud as a cat on a rug over the weekend. The Oriole flingers not only dampened the New Yorkers' gunpowder but moved Baltimore back into contention in the American League.

County Track Meet Reset For Aug. 12

The Operation Fitness track meet scheduled Saturday at Patterson Field for county qualifiers was postponed until Aug. 12 because of wet grounds. The program is being sponsored by the East Liverpool Jaycees. All participants who qualified in the preliminary rounds in June are requested to report on Aug. 12.

Steve Barber and Milt Pappas, the Orioles' 22-year-old hurlers, and reliever Dick Hall, led Baltimore to a 4-0 and 2-1 doubleheader sweep Sunday that left the league-leading Yanks fuming and their home run kings, Roger Maris (40) and Mickey Mantle (39) fruitless.

The Yanks were lucky that Minnesota's Jack Kralick blitzed runner-up Detroit 4-0 with an eight-hitter that gave the Twins a three-game cleanup over the Tigers.

As the clubs took their two-day All-Star game break, the Yanks were 1½ games in front of Detroit and 8½ ahead of Baltimore.

Cleveland's fourth-place Indians dropped 1½ games off the pace on an 8-6 loss to the pesky Los Angeles Angels. Washington's Bennie Daniels whitewashed Kansas City 4-0 and Boston and Chicago split a doubleheader, the White Sox taking the opener 4-2 and then losing 9-8.

Barber (12-8), a lefty, stopped the Yanks cold in the opener with seven hits as Hank Foiles' two homers drove in three runs. In the nightcap, Pappas (7-6) had a three-hit shutout for seven innings but required Hall's help in the ninth.

The right-handed reliever came in with Baltimore leading 2-1, the bases loaded and none out. He blazed a called third strike past Cleve Boyer and got pinchhitter Hector Lopez to hit into a game-ending double play.

Yankee manager Ralph Houk, still fuming over the call on Boyer, stormed out of the dugout and jostled plate umpire Ed Hureley. It will cost him a fine and possibly a suspension.

Kralick (10-6) scattered eight Tiger hits in Detroit. He won out on Bob Allison's 23rd homer and Ted Lepcio's sixth. Shortstop Dick McAuliffe suffered a slight nose fracture and outfielder Bubba Morton a sprained left ankle in a crash at first base to add to the wounded Tigers' woes.

Daniels (6-5) pitched his first shutout for Washington in shackingling the Athletics at Kansas City with six hits. Gene Green's homer (14th) in the second proved the winner.

The Angels outthumbed Cleveland 5-4 but it was a sixth-inning single by Lee Thomas that poked in the winning run at Los Angeles.

Lefty Frank Baumann (8-8) whipped his old Red Sox mates with a six-hitter and a run-scoring double in the first game. In the second contest, pinchhitter Joe Ginsberg's 10th inning, two-out single gave Boston a split.

Over 100 Tee Off In Women's Western

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—More than 100 golfers, among them the best in the nation, tee off today in the qualifying round of the 61st annual Women's Western Golf Association amateur championship.

The low 64 scorers qualify for the championship flight and match play, which gets underway Tuesday.

Barber, January In Showdown

Meet Today In Playoff On 18 Holes

CHICAGO (AP) — Jerry (Incredible) Barber, a mighty, little bantam who didn't know when to quit, and shaken, unbelieving Don January play 18 extra holes today for the national PGA golf championship at Olympia Fields in the wake of what Barber called "the most amazing finish of my career."

Four strokes behind January, a jittery Texan with a picture swing, with three holes to play. Barber sank putts of 30, 40 and 50 feet—two of them for birdies—and forced a 72-hole tie at 277.

The 5-5, 157-pound Barber, 45, and the reed-thin January, 31, will try to settle a duel that carried through 36 pressure-drenched holes Sunday over the 6,722-yard, par 35-35-70 Olympia North Course. It is the first playoff since the PGA became a medal play meet in 1958. The windup will be televised by CBS 5 to 6 p.m. E.D.T.

Each seeks his first major championship. Barber came within one stroke and two holes of nailing this title two years ago at Minneapolis. Leading by one stroke with two holes to go, the jockey-sized Californian finished bogey-bogey and lost by a shot to Bob Rosburg.

January from Dallas, has won only three regular tour tournaments. He was 16th in money winning with $17,000 last year.

Barber, leading January and Doug Sanders by two strokes after 18 holes, was considered too old and too short a hitter to stand up through the 36-hole climax dictated by Friday's washout. Young January shot a morning 67 and moved into the lead by two strokes, at 205 to 207, over Barber, who shot a one-over-par 71.

Barber, apparently wilting in the heat that brought steam from the rain-soaked fairways, had taken a double bogey 6 after a dubbed 75-yard drive at the 68th hole and was four behind January when they came to the 16th hole of the closing round.

Then began the most incredible golf finish since Arnold Palmer's 70-65 finish in the 1960 National Open.

A drive and a 4-wood put Barber 30 feet from the cup on the 16th—the 70th of the tournament. While January took a bogey 5, Barber rapped in an uphill putt for a birdie 3.

January got a routine 4 on the 71st, but Barber salvaged his with a 40-foot downhill putt after dubbing his drive and taking two more shots to reach the green.

On the last hole, with upwards of 10,000 lining the fairway, Barber drove straight down the middle. January pulled his drive into a trap and hit a 6-iron shot halfway to the green. Barber banged a 4-wood that caught the left corner of the green. January's wedge shot stopped 15 feet to the left of the hole.

Barber, peering through the dusk, examined his putt for a full five minutes, then hit it boldly. It curled to the right, caught the left corner of the cup and dropped in. January then missed by two inches the putt that would have avoided a playoff.

January's four rounds for the regulation distance were 72-66-67-72 and Barber's 69-67-71-70. At stake today was $11,000 for the winner and $5,500 for the runner-up.

Doug Sanders, the punch-swinging from Ojai, Calif., won third money of $3,600 with a 72-68 finish for 280, with Ted Kroll next at 281. Palmer tied with five others — including National Open champion Gene Littler—at 282.

Top finishers and their earnings included:

Richards Adjusts Lineup For Today's All-Star Tilt

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP)—Manager Paul Richards, an old hand at strategy, presented a drastically revamped starting lineup as the American League sought to end the National supremacy today in the second 1961 All-Star game.

Richards took advantage of injuries and additions to put in eight right-handed hitters and take dead aim at Fenway Park's beckoning porch in left field.

In contrast to the July 11 game at wind-driven Candlestick Park in San Francisco where he started left-hander Whitey Ford, Richards chose right-hander Jim Bunning of Detroit to open on the mound for his team.

National League Manager Danny Murtaugh also settled on a right-hander, although he was undecided between Bob Purkey of Cincinnati and Art Mahaffey of Philadelphia. A sell-out crowd of 33,357 was expected for the 31st game starting at 3 p.m. EDT, with NBC radio and TV coverage.

Injuries to New York's lefty hitters Roger Maris and Tony Kubek gave Richards an opportunity to test right-handed theory.

He has replaced them with two right-handed hitters, Detroit's Al Kaline in right field and Chicago's Luis Aparicio at shortstop. "I'm just going with the percentage," he said. "We're going all out to win. We're just getting sick and tired of losing."

The All-Star spectacle, once a beautiful summer's dream, has become a nightmare to the American League. In the last 14, the junior circuit has been able to win but four. The National, once behind 12 games to four, now trails only by a 16-14 margin.

The last time Fenway Park was host to an All-Star game, back in 1946, the American League was a 12-0 victor, mainly because of Ted Williams, who crashed two home runs and added a pair of singles for a perfect day at the plate.

Dodgers Gain 8th Straight, Lead By ½ Game

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
It's a lucky break for the rest of the National League that the Los Angeles Dodgers are required to stop like every one else for the two-day All-Star game break.

For the Dodgers are rolling in high now like most everyone figured. They walloped the Pirates 7-3 at Pittsburgh Sunday for their eighth straight victory—all on the road—and their third in a row over the fading defending champions.

This put them a half-game in front of the Cincinnati Reds who split two with the Chicago Cubs. The Reds first lost 3-2 and then recouped 5-4. San Francisco's third-place Giants stayed within eight games of the lead by overpowering the Phillies 5-2.

Milwaukee and St. Louis also divided a twin bill. The Cards beat Lew Burdette (12-7) in the opener 5-3 but succumbed to Warren Spahn 3-2 in the ten-inning windup as Spahn gained his 298th major league triumph.

The Dodgers clicked for nine hits, including Tommy Davis' 15th homer and two singles, and Duke Snider's two-run double in the sixth, off Joe Gibbon (8-6) and three other hurlers. Don Drysdale (9-6), with help from Ron Perranoski in the ninth, muffled the Bucs with six hits.

Ed Bouchee's two-run homer in the second inning and Billy Williams' run-scoring double helped Don Cardwell (9-7) to his 3-2 edge over the Reds in the opener. The Reds wriggled to victory in the second game on Jerry Lynch's two-run pinch single that climaxed a four-run rally in the seventh inning.

Willie Mays clubbed his 29th homer and a run-scoring single in San Francisco's win over the Phils. Jack Sanford (6-5) went all the way with a seven-hitter.

Bill White clouted a pair of homers (10 and 11) for St. Louis to beat Burdette and the Braves. Relief pitcher Lindy McDaniel (7-5) got the win. Spahn (10-12) finally recorded No. 298 on Hank Aaron's run-producing single in the tenth inning. The old lefty yielded ten hits.

U.S. Tracksters Complete Sweep As Poland Becomes Fourth Victim

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
WARSAW (AP) — The United States still ruled the roost today as the world's No. 1 track power, and if the rest of the world is supposed to be catching up, it isn't apparent in Europe.

The United States team, with some of the top stars in the country absent, wound up a three-week, four-meet tour of Europe Sunday by beating Poland.

So the score stands at 4-0 for Coach Jumbo Jim Elliott's operatives as they prepare to head for home Tuesday. The Americans have been engaging in international competition since before the turn of the century, and they have yet to lose a full-scale duel.

They started the current tour by trouncing Russia 13-9, then whipped West Germany and Great Britain, each by 14-6, and wound up with a 13-7 decision over Poland. These were the four strongest track countries in the world outside the United States.

"This was a great team," said Elliott. "Even when we were hit by a series of injuries, the boys never thought of anything but winning."

Poland was figured to be the toughest nut to crack—even more so than the Russians. But Elliott's outfit took the final meet in stride. The point score on a 5-3-2-1 (5-2 for the relays) was 121-91.

"I had hoped we would make it a little closer," said Polish coach Zygmunt Zabierowski. "But you never can get very far against the Americans."

The biggest upset was Max Truex's 30:08.4 victory in the 10,000 meters. Poland was supposed to have this one all sewed up. But Truex turned on the heat on the final two laps and Stan Ozog of Poland couldn't keep up with him. Truex won by about 20 yards.

The battle of behemoths in the discus throw wound up with world record co-holder Edmund Piatkowski of Poland beating Jay Silvester, the big U.S. Army lieutenant. Piatkowski had a 193-11½ throw to a 189-9½ effort by Silvester.

Marian Foik of Poland, Europe's No. 1 sprinter, got even with Frank Budd by winning the 200 meters in 20.8. Budd nipped Foik in the 100 meters.

Hayes Jones won the 110 yard hurdles in 14.3. Jerry Siebert captured the 800 meters in 1:55; John Uelses took the pole vault with a 14-1¼ leap, and the 1,600-meters relay team of Uli Williams, Cliff Cushman, Adolph Plummer and Earl Young scored in 3:16.6 for the other final-day American victories.

Tribe Drops 8-6 Contest To Angels; 9 Homers Hit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Cleveland Indians and Los Angeles Angels hit nine home runs—two short of the major league record—Sunday, but it was a single that drove in the deciding run as Los Angeles won the slugfest, 8-6.

George Thomas and Leon Wagner each hit a pair of homers and Ed Sadowski hit one for the Angels. Bubba Phillips, Woodie Held, Bob Nieman and Tito Francona homered for the Indians. Only Sadowski's blast came with a runner on base.

The home run record for a nine-inning game is 11, set by the New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers in 1950.

The defeat ended a road trip in which the Indians lost six of nine games—two out of three to Minnesota, Kansas City and Los Angeles. Those were the clubs that Cleveland was beating almost at will in May and June.

Following the break for today's All-Star game in Boston, the Indians will open a three-game series at home against the Chicago White Sox with a two-night doubleheader Wednesday night.

The Angels scored their seventh and winning run in the sixth inning, when pitcher Ted Bowsfield walked, went to second on an infield play and scored on a single through the middle by Lee Thomas.

Gary Bell (7-10) was the first victim of the Los Angeles barrage. He was sent to the showers in the fourth inning after George Thomas had hit his second homer. Ken Hunt walked and Sadowski sent a blast over the left field fence. Bell gave up only four hits, but all were homers.

Bobby Locke, the next Cleveland pitcher, was the victim of Wagner's second homer—in the fifth.

Bowsfield picked up his seventh victory in 10 decisions. He gave up eight of Cleveland's 13 hits, including all four homers.

The Angels scored an insurance run in the seventh when Hunt walked, went to third on a single by Sadowski and scored when first baseman Vic Power bobbled Billy Moran's bunt.

Errors also led to the two Cleveland runs not produced by homers. Following Phillips' homer in the fourth, John Romano was safe at first when George Thomas' throw pulled Ted Kluszenski off the bag. Romano went to third on a single by Held and scored on Power's sacrifice fly.

In the seventh, after Nieman and Francona had homered, Willie Kirkland singled and went to second when Joe Koppe booted Phillips' grounder. A single by Romano sent Kirkland home.

2 City Teams Advance In Salem Tournament

Two members of the City Softball League continued to advance in the County Tournament at Salem.

The East End Merchants topped the Italian Club of Salem 5-1 and Gallagher's Market handed Scott Candies a 12-8 setback.

Gene Talbott hurled a four-hitter for the East End nine and held the Italian Club scoreless until the sixth inning.

East End scored one run in the second and two runs in the fourth and sixth innings.

Gene and Gail Talbott, Al Dawson and Chick McMillan had two hits each for East End. The winners meet Herron Transfer to night at 7:45.

The hitting of Pete Pugliano and Steve Chumura, who had four safeties each, paced Gallagher's. Sam Ratkovich picked up the victory but needed help from John Carter.

Chumura had a triple, a home run and two singles.

Gallagher's play again to night at 6:30.

No games are scheduled in the City Softball League this week because of the Salem tourney.

Grand Lyle Winner At Waterford

Grand Lyle successfully stood off the challenges of Buddies Cab in to win Saturday's sprint for two-year-olds at Waterford Park before 5,843 fans.

Ridden by Leon Hulslander, the winner returned $5, $3.40 and $2.40 in covering the 5½ furlong distance.

The sixth race saw Schlaufensie record its third straight victory over the one-mile oval.

Saturday's daily double hit $280.40 on a 6-1 combination. John The Cat, highly favored in the wagering captured the opening event while Broadway Sam, a 19-1 shot returned $40.20, $16.60 and $9 in the second race.

But the experts, using all kinds of windage indicators, barometric pressure gauges and thermometers, panned pellet after pellet into the black.

7,500 Enter Pistol Match

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP) — America hasn't lost its desire, or its ability, to put a bullet in a bullseye.

Here at the annual national rifle-pistol matches, where the ability to draw a bead pays off in coveted championships but no cash prizes, the attendance is going up.

Col. Edward (Jim) Crossman, executive officer of the matches, said today the entry list for the month-long duels along the mile-long firing line was up 50 per cent over the 1958 figure.

About 7,500 were scheduled to fire in the pistol matches this week, and the .22 and .30-caliber rifle competitions later this month, as compared with 5,000 a few years ago. Military personnel handling the matches has increased only 9 per cent over the same period.

The modern handgun experts would make the old, quick-draw artists of the unlamented West look like beginners. Most of the old-timers did their devastating pistol work at close range, but the moderns use the .22, .38 and .45-caliber weapons at 75 and 150 feet, using a bullseye about the size of a condensed milk can.

Last year Army Sgt. Bill Blankenship Jr. fired 270 times, 90 with each caliber, and missed the little black spot only a few times as he won the national pistol crown with a 2,636 score out of a possible 2,700.

And in the .22 - caliber rifle phase, Capt. Arthur E. Cook of the Air Force Reserve, firing 640 shots at 50 yards, 50 meters and 100 yards, piled up a 6,390 of 6,400 score to take the national prone title.

The big-bore enthusiasts, most of them using military rifles, fire at targets from 200 to 1,000 yards away—and on a windy day a heavy breeze can swerve a bullet many feet off course at the longer distances.

But the experts, using all kinds of windage indicators, barometric pressure gauges and thermometers, panned pellet after pellet into the black.

Bolt In PGA Doghouse After Sunday's Burst

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Tommy (Thunder) Bolt was in the PGA doghouse again today and trying to bark his way out.

The 43-year-old stormy petrel of golf's tournament circuit Sunday was indefinitely suspended from PGA co-sponsored meets on a charge of using abusive language in the locker room of Olympia Fields Country Club.

It just wasn't Bolt's day. After storming around and declaring himself innocent of the charge, he went to get his auto and found the police had towed it away. It had been parked in an official's section without proper identification on the windshield.

Bolt finally found it near the caddy shack.

As for the suspension, Bolt fumed: "The PGA executive committee didn't give me a chance to defend myself. A meeting was called and action taken without calling me in. It deprives me of making a living."

"They told me an official of the club had turned me in. But they wouldn't tell me who it was. I was deprived of facing my accuser."

"It all seems very unconstitutional to me. If I don't get any satisfaction, I'll get a lawyer and take it to court—to the Supreme Court, if necessary."

The unpredictable Bolt is used to having at least one foot in hot PGA water. In addition to occasional club-breaking and throwing episodes, the 1958 USGA Open champion was placed on probation for 2½ years for various reasons. It was lifted last November.

Bolt's uprising Sunday apparently came after he had played 12 holes of the third round and telephoned the clubhouse to ask if an osteopath were available. He wanted his shoulder massaged on the course so he could continue. He was told none was available.

Bolt bogied the 13th, then walked back to the clubhouse. He was 3-over par at the time for the round and 6-over for the tournament.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I noticed in the classified section of the newspaper that a certain party had a stove for sale. My husband and I were interested so we phoned first and then drove over.

When the man came to the door I said, "I am the lady who phoned about the stove."

The first minute we were alone my husband said to me, "You should not have said 'lady,' you should have said 'woman.'"

I'm a little miffed that my husband doesn't think I should call myself a lady. He says it is self-praise. I say it is nothing of the kind. Will you settle it?—NO NO LADY (?)

Dear No Lady: The words are now used interchangeably. Now, tell me something important—like did you buy the stove?

Community Center

Dear Ann: My problem is right in my backyard. It's a swimming pool. Don't get the idea we are rich. We are people of modest means who decided it was easier to invest in a pool than to drag our children to the public pool every day and go get them.

The trouble is the neighbor kids come in droves, uninvited, and sometimes they don't even bother to bring their own suits. They expect us to provide towels, refreshments and telephone service. Some days we've had as many as 20 kids. I feel as if I am running a public bathhouse.

The younger visitors ask to borrow our children's masks, frog-foet and snorkel tubes. If they are refused they go home and say our kids are selfish. The pool has caused so much trouble I'm ready to fill it with cement. Is there another solution?—STUCK.

Dear Stuck: Yes. Call the parents and tell them of your problem. Tell them, too, that their kids are welcome only if they have been invited because nobody is free to "drop in" any more. Ask your children to invite the friends they want (clearing through you first, so you don't have 20 on the same day). Each guest should be reminded to bring his suit and a towel.

You may make a few enemies but don't let it bother you. Reasonable people will be sympathetic and cooperative. Unreasonable people are impossible no matter what you try to do to please them.

Nervy Friend

Dear Ann: I have a close friend who has a lot of nerve. She has a habit of saying to me, whenever I wear something she likes,

"I'd love to have that when you are through with it." And then she keeps at me until I promise to give it to her.

I hate to give worn-out gifts so I find myself handing things over long before I am through with them. Then after I have given her the hat or the dress or the purse, I get mad at myself for being such a patsy.

This woman can afford to buy anything she wants. She has more money than I have... she's just cheap. Any suggestions?—OUT-SMARTED.

Dear Outsmarted: From now on, when she hands you the old line simply say, "I'll never be through with this. I intend to wear it until it falls apart." Then stick to your guns.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

West End Man Fined After Lisbon Mishap

Victor David Elliott, 18, of 867 Fairview St. was fined $20 and costs Sunday by Mayor Dean Stockman of Lisbon for failing to yield the right-of-way after he was involved in an accident Saturday afternoon at Lisbon.

Elliott, driving out of a gas station at 3:55 p. m. at E. Lincoln Way and Jackson St., struck a car driven by Frances E. Yeager, 28, of MC 22, East Liverpool, who was going east and turning south on Jackson, officers said. Minor damage was reported.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child Should Be Taught Book Care

Before your baby is in his second year he may grow interested in pictures he sees in a magazine or book.

He may point to these pictures and, with a grunt or gesture, urge you to talk to him about them. Gladly do so. Slowly and carefully turn the pages.

Dr. Garry Meyers Gently restrain his little hands as he makes grabbing movements to turn the pages himself. Lovingly pat his hand and approve him with soft words when he turns a page carefully. It's time then to show him a small and not too thick book with pictures and a few related words of print to the page. Talk to him about the pictures on each page. Soon you will be using the words from the book; you will be reading to him.

IF HE IS too eager to turn the pages and won't wait, put the book away and bring it back again later. Never leave the book with him until it is safe with him alone. Don't let him carry the book around as though it were a toy.

Some parents begin by giving the baby a cloth picture book he can't easily tear and letting him do with it as he pleases. But he does not meet with reality then. This book won't tear, while one with leaves of paper will. If, however, he does grab and tear out a leaf from a book, you know you just need to spend more time with him, helping him to handle it carefully.

After you begin reading from his favorite book, he may often not want to wait until you have read everything from a pictured page but tries to turn the pages to parts farther on. Sometimes you should compromise and let him turn before you have read all on the page, but he must gradually learn to wait — a very useful experience.

IT'S WELL IF the book is not too large or heavy for him to bring to you and for him to have a place within his easy reach to keep it. This presupposes he won't drag the book around roughly at other times or leaf through it alone until he does so very carefully.

As he learns to handle a book carefully and enjoys looking and listening as you read from it, he will feel an affection and tenderness toward it, even toward all books. You and I know some families in which the youngest child enjoys the same book that his eldest brother or sister once also enjoyed.

My bulletin "Why Read to Baby and Young Child" may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Ahoy, Officers! Here's Accident For Coast Guard

Police rarely have the opportunity to investigate a boat accident at the corner of 5th and Market Sts., but that was the case Friday afternoon.

It wasn't a heat mirage. The damaged boat was being towed by a Pennsylvania's auto, which was hit from the rear by a Maplewood man's car, police said. The crash damaged both cars — and the boat.

Police said the boat was in tow on a trailer pulled by a 1956 station wagon operated by Wilbert Kemp, 46, of Burgettstown R.D. 2.

Kemp said his northbound vehicle was halted for the traffic light at 5th St. when it was struck from the rear by a 1957 coupe driven by Robert R. Haney, 21, of Azalea Ave.

There was damage to the front bumper and hood of Haney's car, the motor of the boat and the rear bumper of Kemp's auto, police said.

Haney told police he was halted in a lane of traffic behind Kemp. As traffic began to move again, he put his car in motion, striking the towed boat, he said. The crash was timed at 4:15.

Beekeepers Set Tour Of Concern In Medina

LISBON — The Columbiana County Beekeepers Association has arranged a tour Saturday at the A. I. Root Co. of Medina. The Root company is the largest producer of bee materials in the world.

The group will meet at 8:15 a. m. at the Fourth St. School in Salem and go direct to the company, which is located just west of Medina on Route 18. The tour will begin at 10:30.

This will be the group's regular meeting for August, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Services Set For Cardinal

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Funeral services will be held Wednesday in St. Peter's Basilica for Domenico Cardinal Tardini, chief aide to Pope John XXIII who died early Sunday in his Vatican apartment.

The Pope interrupted his annual summer stay at Castel Gandolfo, 20 miles south of Rome, and hurried back to the Vatican to pray beside Cardinal Tardini's bier.

The 73-year-old prelate was cardinal secretary of state and carried much of the burden of church government, particularly in the field of foreign affairs. He had been ill for several days with a recurrence of a heart ailment and also suffered from hardening of the arteries.

The doctors have been much more concerned over the condition of Nicola Cardinal Canali, 87, who has been near death with pneumonia since Friday. As head of the administration commission for Vatican City, Cardinal Canali is in effect the mayor of the little city-state.
